

RPP ARCHITECTS

RPP Architects is one of Northern Ireland's longest-standing architectural firms with many award-winning buildings to its name across a wide range of sectors. RPP Director, Simon Robinson, brings his creativity, experience, passion and scrupulous attention to detail to each and every job. Simon is currently designing and delivering bespoke homes to clients all over the UK and his projects have been featured in many leading interiors magazines.

A thoughtful approach

RPP Architects takes a thoughtful approach to our private homes, interiors and extensions. From helping to choose sites and navigate planning, to ensuring optimum energy efficiency, we are with our clients on every step of the journey to their dream home.

We are passionate about the finer details.

We always go that extra step for our clients: designing fitted furniture and lighting schemes, advising on interior colours and finishes, as well as landscaping to ensure the garden is a true extension of the home.

Your home for you, your family, your life

We appreciate how important the relationship is between architect and client. Each project is a collaboration from beginning to end. We aren't interested in churning out one identical house after the other; we want every home to be one of a kind.

From new-builds to extensions and major refurbishments, we design for what our clients need and desire: whether this be open-plan family space for entertaining and living; Georgian grandeur or modern simplicity; practical boot room areas for decluttering the detritus of family life or kitchen-to-garden living perhaps with an all-weather BBQ room for the chef of the house. We design for you, for your home, your family and your life.

What our clients say

'Commissioning architect Simon Robinson of RPP Architects was instrumental to the process. Simon led the project; he is so invested in what he does. He covered everything, planning and developing the initial layout and coming up with ideas for the interior finishes even designing the garden. We're delighted to have had a wonderful team behind us. The entire project has been so enjoyable and now we're really getting to enjoy every aspect of living here.'
